TRAVERS AND EVANS WIN

These Two With Kerr and Wood Left to Play It Out for National Honors.

WHEATON, III., Sept. 5.—Jerome D. Travers, Upper Montelair; Hamilton K. Kerr, Ekwanok; Charles Evans, Jr., Edge-water, and Warren K. Wood are the seminalists of the national amateur golf nampionship of 1912. The first three of m won their places to-day in thirty-hole matches over the course of the cago Golf Club, while the last named ed eighteen holes of his match against man F. The physicians told Hunter that while was not dangerously ill it would be orse than foolhardy to play in the after-afternoon round. He made the first six holes in that figure. At the seventh he holed a thirty foot put for a 3, but was trapped at the eighth and took a 5. The minth in 3 gave him 35 for the outward fourney. It took him four more holes to dispose of the little Massachusetts titleolder by 6 up and 5 to play. of the afternoon play was the halving in 4 of the sixth hole, which is 566 yards in length, the longest hole on the course. The inward journey saw Travers drop to 2 up at the tenth, only to be me 4 up by winning the eleventh and irteenth. Phelps then braced and at e end of the round was only 2 down. Phelps set out after his opponent as on as the second round began, and as ravers was wilder than ever with his liver Phelps caught him at the second ole and by winning the fourth went into the lead. The next three were haived and when Phelps laid his iron from the tee to within two feet of the pin at the inth he had no trouble in getting his 2 or the second time and was 2 up. At his stage of the match Pheips looked ike a winner, but Travers took the next we holes and was all square. By this metror the metropolitan titleholder was to-day using his iron from the tee and was beek. when Phelps blew up completely on the seventeenth, won by 2 up and 1 to play.

Hamilton K. Kerr, the Vermont chamon, who eliminated Albert Seckel yes-rday, produced another surprise to-day disposing of Paul Hunter in a match that went an extra hole. The Westerner ayed a splendid round in an approximated 74, and was 4 up at noon. With his cousin Robert Hunter acting as his caddle, Paul Hunter tried hard to win in the afternoon. Kerr was feeling the effects of the heat and under the strain the afternoon. great lakes. The international doubles match proved an interesting event. Miss though badly played round. Chick Evans is the champion smiler among the golfers at Whealon. 'Repress that smile,' ordered Walter J. Travis, who was standing by when Evans was first informed that Hilton had been beaten. Hilton and Hunter intend to play in invitation tournament at the National Goif Links of America on September 12, 13 and 14. It is probable that Chick Evans will play also if he can arrange to get away from business long enough to make the trip

Fred Herreshoff's failure to qualify was doubtless due in a measure to the excessive heat that prevailed on Monday. He has never been a good hot weather player and at Tuxedo last year and in the Metropolitan open at Apawamis this year he had to give up altogether because of the heat.

There were crowds of much disappoint golf enthusiasts in Chicago when the new of Hilton's defeat on Tuesday reached to city. They had been postponing their it to Wheaton until one of the later rounds the expectation of seeing the Englishman action against one of the American siskers.

Early in the week the U. S. G. A. official Early in the week the U. S. G. A. officials tried to introduce the reform of barring all applause in recognition of good puts, as it was thought that applause would rattle the man who still had his put to make. The rule did not work well, however, as it was going against human nature to ask the crowd to wait breathlessly until a player had fussed around a while and then putted and to repress their applause if the ball went in.

Early in the week the U. S. G. A. officials bers of the Timers Club, caught the little boat exactly as she got on the range at each end of the course.

Hilton's final shot in the tournament was about the worst he made. It was a three foot put for a win that would have prolonged the match to the home hole, but his ball went fully six inches wide. In factives first nine with 4, 3, 3 stood 3 up at the turn. On the way in he played the last seven holes in 4 each, consecutive scoring that stands out as the best thus far in the championship tournament. He went to lunch 4 up over Schmidt.

Another string of 4's opened Evans's afternoon round. He made the first six holes in that figure. At the seventh he holed a thirty foot put for a 3, but was trapped at the eighth and took a 5. The MIDDLETOWN, Conn., Sept. 5.—Capt. Bacon of the Wesleyan football team has issued a call for candidates to report on Andrews Field September 10. The announcement that the athletic council has secured Jacob M. High, who played three years on the Brown varsity during his college course, to take the place as coach, which Larry Vorhis has held for two years, has met with approval among Weslevan men.

Last fall High coached the Tulane University. New Orleans, team and made a good record. He is only 25 years old, and it is thought he is destined to make his mark as a coach. In his sophomore year at Brown he filled in at end, tackle and guard on the varsity. It was in his juntor and senior years that he starred, however, playing at fullback with McKay, an all-American man, also in the backfield. He
